

ACTIVITY 19 MAY

History of World Book Day

---

- a. In 1995, at UNESCO's General Conference, it was decided that April 23rd would be named World Book and Copyright Day as a way to pay tribute to books and authors. It was also determined that this day would be good for encouraging (animar, fomentar) everyone to read and enjoy the pleasures that go along with it. April 23rd was chosen because that is the date when Miguel de Cervantes, William Shakespeare, Vladimir Nabokov, Maurice Druon and Inca Garcilaso de la Vega all died; all of them are famous authors.

(DON'T FORGET TO READ EVERYDAY!!!)

- b. Do you remember every year we attend a theatre play at school or at the Auditorium?

This spring is impossible, so I invite you to watch it from home.

Let's pay special attention to:

- Places.
- Adjectives that describe those places.
- Prepositions.

Voluntary activity. If you dare (atreverse), invent a story using as many as possible from the named words and send it by mail to: robertofp@educastur.org.
